The short title is amended by changing the name of the Act to "The Education of Service Men's Children Act".

Sections 2 and 3 are amended. This Act now provides secondary educational facilities for the children of service men who died or were disabled as the result of war service in World War II, and who were resident in the Province at the time of their enlistment. The amendments to these two sections extend the Act to cover the children of deceased and disabled service men who served in World War I.

The Bill comes into force upon assent.
