

Bill No. 102 of 1953

A BILL TO AMEND THE TOWN AND VILLAGE ACT, 1952

NOTE

This Bill amends The Town and Village Act, 1952, being chapter 97 of the Statutes of Alberta, 1952.

Section 2 is amended by striking out clause (v). The expression "rateable property" is used in different senses in this Act and it is desired to avoid ambiguity by removing the definition of "rateable property" and replacing this expression by the exact words where necessary in the Act.

Section 17, subsection (1) is amended. The reference to townships is removed in the defining of boundaries of a village with relation to road allowances, and a reference made instead to "parts of sections".

Section 23 is amended to correct a cross-reference.

Section 34, subsection (1) is amended to have road allowances and town boundary defining provisions similar to the provisions relating to villages found in the amended section 17.

Section 35 is amended. The effect of this amendment is to make it clear that the powers given to the Board of Public Utility Commissioners to include adjacent territory within a town or village upon resolution from the town or village requesting the inclusion, does not depend upon the requirements of subsection (2) relating to annexation of territory.

A new section 52a is added. It provides authority for a council to appoint standing or special committees consisting of members of the council. Subsection (2) provides for the duties which the council may delegate to such committees. Subsection (3) permits such committees to exercise or perform its delegated duties to the same extent and with the same effect as the council.

Section 61, subsection (4) is amended to substitute the second Friday of February for the third Monday thereof as the date from which the four calendar months are computed within which a special election to fill a vacancy on the council need not be held and the vacancy can exist until the next general election.

Section 79 is amended for the purpose of renumbering certain subsections.

A new section 82a is added. This section is similar to section 91 of The City Act, and authorizes the council to enter into agreements with the Royal Canadian Mounted Police for the policing of the town or village by the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, whereupon certain sections dealing with municipal police have no application.

Section 103 is amended by adding two new subsections. The new subsection (2) provides that a person eligible for election as mayor or councillor is only permitted to run for one such office, and the new subsection (3) provides that a person holding one such office shall not be a candidate for that or the other office unless his term of office is expiring, or unless he resigns his office before the third Monday in February.

Section 104 is amended. Previously a party to an agreement to purchase land from the town or village, by clause (e), was made ineligible to be elected to council or to sit or vote in the council. This provision is now extended to include parties to an agreement to lease land from the town or village.

Section 105 is amended. The effect of the amendment to clause (d) of subsection (1) is to make the restriction found in clause (e) of section 104, mentioned above, not applicable to a person by reason only of his selling or leasing land that council could expropriate. Clause (c) is amended to conform to the amendment to clause (d) of subsection (1). Clause (d) of subsection (2) is struck out as it is no longer applicable by reason of the amendment proposed to section 104.

Section 106, subsection (3) is amended. As this subsection previously read it did not include a person entitled to vote in a village under section 159, which section permitted a person to vote on behalf of a corporation.

Section 107, subsection (2) is amended. This section indicated the persons entitled to vote at an election but did not previously indicate a person who is entitled under section 159 to vote on behalf of a corporation.

Section 108, subsection (3) is amended. This amendment clarifies the meaning of the subsection.

Section 159 is amended. The effect of this amendment is to place churches or other religious organizations that own property within a town or village upon the same footing as corporations with respect to voting at an election by representatives.

Section 183, subsection (1) is amended. As there may be more than one tie vote in an election for councillors this amendment is for the purpose of clarifying the position of the returning officer who votes in case of a tie election and may thus be required to cast a tie-breaking vote in more than one election of a councillor.

Section 220 is amended. The correct reference here is to the "poll book" set out in Form 27 in the Schedule but prior to this amendment the section referred to the "voters' list".

Section 225 is amended. The effect of this amendment is to permit a proprietary elector who is also a resident representative of a corporation, or of a church or other religious organization, to vote in his personal capacity as a proprietary elector as well as in his capacity as representative of a corporation, or of a church or religious organization.

Section 226 is amended by substituting a new section. Previously, a bank or other corporation assessed on the last revised assessment roll as owner of real property was entitled to one vote and it was required that the vote be given by an employee of the corporation not otherwise entitled to vote as a proprietary elector. The new section 226 permits churches and other religious organizations the same privileges as banks and other corporations had under the old section. In addition, the restriction against the vote being cast by a person who was not otherwise entitled to vote as a proprietary elector is removed.

Section 228 is amended by the substitution of a new subsection (1) which is made necessary by the addition of churches or other religious organizations to the voting privileges under the redrafted section 226.

Section 270, subsection (1) is amended. The new subsection (1), by reference to section 269, clarifies the power of a council to pass by-laws for the erection, purchase, other acquisition and improvement of buildings. Previously, the subsection set out the buildings by class, or by type of lands and doubt could arise as to the extent of the power of the council.

Section 308 is amended by the addition of two new subsections. The new subsections (5) and (6) set out, for the purpose of a hospital agreement, the persons entitled to the benefit of the hospital agreement where the real property being assessed for the cost of the agreement is under a purchase agreement or has been transferred to a new owner during the year. Where there is a purchaser entitled to possession he is the person entitled to the benefits of the agreement, and where real property is transferred, whether or not the taxes for that year have been paid, the new owner whose name replaces the former owner's on the assessment roll is entitled to the hospital benefits.

Section 341, subsection (1) is amended. The effect of this amendment to clause (d) is to extend the power of a town or village to enable it to construct or acquire the works necessary to convey light, power, gas or water to the town or village. They may expend money on land either within or without the town for that purpose.

Section 342 is amended. The purpose of this amendment is to include the supplying of gas among those utilities for which a town or village supplying same may fix rates, or cut off for default of payment of rates.

Section 343 is amended. The new section 343 authorizes a council to enter into a contract with a person to

- (a) provide light, heat, gas or water services to the residents, and
- (b) provide the town or village corporation with a supply of light, heat, gas or water for its distribution.

The by-law authorizing the contract is subject to the prior approval of the Board of Public Utility Commissioners and must be submitted to the proprietary electors for approval.

Section 343*a* is new. Subsection (1) sets out that a by-law authorizing a contract or a renewal of a contract under section 343 is to be submitted for approval to the Board of Public Utility Commissioners after the first reading. Subsection (2) sets out the conditions which that subsection declares such a contract is subject to, and is essentially a redraft of subsection (3) of the former section 343. Subsection (3) is the former subsection (4) of the former section 343.

Section 386 is repealed. This section served no useful purpose and seemed to imply that councillors had authority to prohibit the collection of taxes in certain cases, and is therefore repealed.

Section 392, subsection (2) is amended to correct a printing error.

Section 407, subsection (3), clause (c) is amended to avoid the use of the words "rateable property" and substituting the words indicating more precisely what is intended.

Section 412 is amended to remove a possible ambiguity.

Section 415 is amended. The purpose of this amendment is to avoid the use of the word "rates" where it means "taxes", and further to avoid using the ambiguous term "rateable property".

Section 416 is amended. The expression "rateable property" is replaced by words indicating more clearly what is meant and by striking out certain other words and replacing them with words indicating more clearly the intent of subsections (1) and (2).

Section 420, subsection (1) is amended to avoid the use of the word "rates" and "rateable property" by replacing them with words which more clearly express the intent of the subsection.

Section 429*a* is added immediately after section 429. This new section is similar to section 650 of The City Act and provides that where interest for one year or more on the debentures issued under a by-law, or the principal of a debenture that has matured, has been paid by the town or village, the by-law and debentures shall not be open to question or be invalid even if the assent of the required number of proprietary electors was not in the first instance obtained.

Section 440, subsection (1) is amended to obtain more exact meaning.

A new section 473a is added. It makes provision for the disposal of lost or unclaimed property in the possession of a town or village. It provides for the retention of the property by the town or village for six months with a subsequent sale by public auction if unclaimed by that time, and the disposal of the proceeds of the sale to the owner if he makes a claim within one year after the sale. Thereafter the proceeds are to be deposited in the general revenue of the town or the village. This provision is similar to section 716 of The City Act.

Form 10 in the Schedule is amended by correcting the heading of that Form.

Form 21 in the Schedule is struck out and a new Form substituted. The effect of this amendment is that the new Form 21 will comply with the amendments to section 159.

Form 27 in the Schedule is amended by changing the heading to read "By-law Poll Book".

Form 31 in the Schedule is struck out and a new Form substituted. The new Form 31 makes this Form comply with the amended section 228.

This Bill comes into force on the 1st day of July, 1953.

J. W. RYAN,
Acting Legislative Counsel.

(This note does not form any part of the Bill but is offered in explanation of its provisions.)
