(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), none of the following matters may be referred to an arbitration board and provisions in respect of the following matters shall not be contained in the arbitral award of an arbitration board:

(a) the organization of work, the assignment of duties and the determination of the number of employees of an employer;

(b) the systems of job evaluation and the allocation of individual jobs and positions within the systems;

(c) selection, appointment, promotion, training or transfer;

(d) pensions.

3 This cancels the provision that union dues collection is cancelled in the event of a strike.

4 This will restore the right to strike. Section 93 presently reads as follows:

93(1) No person or trade union shall cause or attempt to cause a strike by the persons to whom this Act applies.

5 This will remove penalties for strikers. Section 93.1 presently reads as follows:

93.1(1) Any trade union that causes or attempts to cause a strike contrary to section 93 is guilty of an offence and liable to a fine not exceeding $1000 for each day that the strike continues.

(2) Any officer or representative of a trade union who strikes or causes or consents to a strike contrary to section 93 is guilty of an offence and liable to a fine not exceeding $10,000.

(3) Any person who is not a trade union or an officer or representative of a trade union who strikes or causes a strike contrary to section 93 is guilty of an offence and liable to a fine not exceeding $1000.

6 This will remove the provision that forbids lockouts. Section 94 presently reads:

94(1) No person shall cause or attempt to cause a lockout by an employer.

(2) No employer shall lockout or consent to a lockout.
