Crown's right of recovery

81(1) If a beneficiary receives health services for personal injuries suffered as a result of a wrongful act or omission of a wrongdoer, the Crown has the right to recover from the wrongdoer the Crown's cost of health services for health services

- (a) that a beneficiary has received for those personal injuries, and
- (b) that a beneficiary will receive for those personal injuries.

(2) If a beneficiary is contributorily negligent, the Crown is entitled to recover 100% of the Crown's cost of the beneficiary's health services less a percentage for the beneficiary's contributory negligence as determined under sections 82 and 83.

Determining contributory negligence

82(1) This section applies when the beneficiary has obtained a judgment against a wrongdoer that is based on a claim that gives rise to the Crown's right of recovery before the Crown has obtained a judgment against or entered into a settlement with the wrongdoer based on the Crown's right of recovery.

(2) This section does not apply when the judgment obtained by the beneficiary implements or approves a structured settlement.

(3) If a beneficiary obtains a judgment that indicates that the beneficiary's claim has been reduced by a specified percentage because of the beneficiary's contributory negligence, the specified percentage in the judgment is the percentage of contributory negligence to be used to calculate the Crown's entitlement under section 81(2).

Determining contributory negligence

83 Unless section 82 applies, the percentage of contributory negligence to be used to calculate the Crown's entitlement under section 81(2) is,

- (a) if the Crown obtains a judgment against the wrongdoer, the percentage specified in the judgment, or
- (b) if the Crown enters into a settlement with the wrongdoer, the percentage specified in the settlement.

Commencement of Crown's right

84 The Crown's right of recovery arises for all purposes when the beneficiary receives health services for which there is a cost to the Crown for personal injuries suffered as a result of a wrongful act or omission of a wrongdoer.

Interest

85(1) When the Crown obtains a judgment based on the Crown's right of recovery, the court shall award interest calculated in accordance with the regulations from the date that the Crown's right of recovery arose to the date of the judgment.

(2) The interest shall be awarded on that part of the judgment that represents the Crown's cost of health services for health services that a beneficiary has received to the date of the judgment.

(3) The rate of interest to be used to calculate the award of interest is the rate of interest for pecuniary damages that is established for each year under Part 1 of the Judgment Interest Act.

(4) For the purposes of enforcing a judgment, interest awarded under this section is included in the judgment.

(5) If a wrongdoer

- (a) pays money into court in satisfaction of the claim of the Crown, or
- (b) makes an offer of judgment specifying the terms on which the wrongdoer is willing to settle the claim of the Crown, and the Crown does not accept the payment or the offer and obtains a judgment for an amount equal to or less than the amount paid into court or the amount offered, the court shall award interest from the date that the Crown's right of recovery arose only to the day the payment into court was made or the date of service of the offer of judgment, as the case may be.

(6) Except for the rate of interest referred to in subsection (3), Part 1 of the Judgment Interest Act does not apply to the Crown's right of recovery.

Limitation

86 The limitation period to commence an action based on the Crown's right of recovery is the period described in clause (a) or (b) that ends on the later date:

- (a) 6 months after the expiration of the beneficiary's limitation period to commence an action against the wrongdoer;
- (b) 6 months after the Director receives a written notice under this Part that a beneficiary who received health services may have or have had a claim for damages against a wrongdoer.

Settlement

87(1) The Director may enter into a settlement of the Crown's right of recovery.

(2) When the terms of a settlement are met, the Director may release a person from liability to the Crown in respect of the Crown's right of recovery.

(3) If the Director believes that the cost of pursuing the Crown's right of recovery in a particular case will exceed the benefit to the Crown, the Director may release a person from liability to the Crown in respect of that right without receiving any payment.

Director's

88(1) The Director may make one or more certificates that set out

- (a) the health services a beneficiary has received and the health services a beneficiary will receive for personal injuries suffered as a result of a wrongful act or omission of a wrongdoer for which there is a cost to the Crown, and
- (b) the Crown's cost of those health services.

(2) For the purposes of the Crown's right of recovery, a certificate is prima facie proof of the health services for which there is a cost to the Crown referred to in subsection (1)(a).

(3) For the purposes of the Crown's right of recovery, after the health services for which there is a cost to the Crown have been determined, a certificate is conclusive proof of the Crown's cost of those health services.

(4) A certificate is admissible in evidence without proof of the signature, authority or office of the person purporting to have signed the certificate.

Priority of beneficiary's payments

89(1) Subject to subsection (2) and the regulations, payments to a beneficiary under a judgment obtained against or a settlement entered into with a wrongdoer that is based on a claim that gives rise to the Crown's right of recovery have priority over payments to the Crown under a judgment obtained against or a settlement entered into with the wrongdoer that is based on the Crown's right of recovery.

(2) Subsection (1) does not apply to a payment received by the Crown under a judgment obtained against or a settlement entered into with a wrongdoer before the beneficiary has obtained a judgment against or entered into a settlement with the wrongdoer.

(3) When the Crown has received a payment under a judgment obtained against or a settlement entered into with a wrongdoer before the beneficiary has obtained a judgment against or entered into a settlement with the wrongdoer, the Director may pay some or all of the money from the payment to the beneficiary if

- (a) the beneficiary subsequently obtains a judgment or enters into a settlement with the wrongdoer, and
- (b) the Director believes that the beneficiary will not receive the full amount to which the beneficiary is entitled under the judgment or settlement.

Beneficiary's duty

90 A beneficiary who consults a lawyer or has someone consult a lawyer on his behalf in respect of personal injuries suffered by the beneficiary as a result of a wrongful act or omission of a wrongdoer shall, as soon as possible after the consultation, provide the Director with the information prescribed by the regulations.

Information from beneficiary

91(1) The Director may request a beneficiary to provide information relating to the wrongful act or omission of the wrongdoer, the personal injuries that the beneficiary has suffered and the health services that have been received for those injuries.

(3) The provision of information under this section is subject to any privilege that exists between a lawyer and client.

(2) The Director may impose terms and conditions specified by the regulations on a structured settlement that is entered into by a beneficiary and a wrongdoer or contained in a judgment obtained by a beneficiary against a wrongdoer that is based on a claim that gives rise to the Crown's right of recovery.

(3) If the Director imposes terms and conditions under subsection (2),

- (a) the Crown is deemed to be a party to the structured settlement, and
- (b) the terms and conditions form part of the structured settlement.

Wrongdoer's insurance policy

95 If a beneficiary obtains a judgment against or enters into a settlement with a wrongdoer that is based on a claim that gives rise to the Crown's right of recovery, the wrongdoer shall, as soon as possible after the judgment has been obtained or the settlement has been entered into, provide the Director with a copy of any insurance policy that insures the wrongdoer against liability in respect of the personal injuries suffered by the beneficiary.

Order for information and documents

96(1) If a beneficiary, insurer or other person fails to provide information under one or more of sections 90 to 93 or if a wrongdoer fails to provide a copy of a structured settlement under section 94 or a copy of an insurance policy under section 95, the Director may apply by originating notice to the Court of Queen's

Bench for an order compelling the beneficiary, insurer or other person to provide the information or compelling the wrongdoer to provide a copy of the structured settlement or insurance policy.

(2) The Court may, subject to any conditions that it considers appropriate, grant an order compelling the beneficiary, insurer or other person to provide the information if it is satisfied that

- (a) the information is in the possession or under the control of the beneficiary, insurer or other person, and
- (b) the information is relevant to the Crown's right of recovery.

(3) The Court may, subject to any conditions that it considers appropriate, grant an order compelling the wrongdoer to provide a copy of the structured settlement if it is satisfied that the wrongdoer has entered into a structured settlement with a beneficiary that is based on a claim that gives rise to the Crown's right of recovery.

(4) The Court may, subject to any conditions that it considers appropriate, grant an order compelling the wrongdoer to provide a copy of the insurance policy if it is satisfied that

- (b) the wrongdoer has an insurance policy that insures the wrongdoer against liability in respect of the personal injuries suffered by the beneficiary.
