PART 1

ACCESS TO INFORMATION

Division 1

Obtaining Access to Records

Right of access

4(1) Every person who makes a request under section 5 has a right of access to any record in the custody or under the control of a public body, including a record containing personal information about the applicant.

(2) The right of access to a record does not extend to information excepted from disclosure under Division 2 of this Part, but if that information can reasonably be severed from a record, an applicant has a right of access to the remainder of the record.

(3) The right of access to a record is subject to the payment of any required fee.

How to make a request

5(1) To obtain access to a record, an applicant must make a request to the public body that the applicant believes has custody or control of the record.

(2) The request must be in writing and must provide enough detail to enable the public body to identify the record.

(3) The applicant may ask for a copy of the record or ask to examine the record.

Time limit for responding

6(1) The head of a public body must respond not later than 30 days after a request is received unless

(a) the time limit is extended under section 9, or

(b) the request has been transferred under section 10 to another public body.

(2) The failure of the head to respond to a request in time is to be treated as a decision to refuse access to the record.

Contents of response

7(1) In a response under section 6, the applicant must be told

(a) whether or not the applicant is entitled under this Act to access to the record or to part of the record,

(b) if the applicant is entitled to access, where, when and how access will be given, and

(c) if access to the record or to part of the record is refused,

(i) the reasons for the refusal and the provision of this Act on which the refusal is based,

(ii) the name, title, office address and office telephone number of an officer or employee of the public body who can answer the applicant's questions about the refusal, and

(iii) that the applicant may ask for a review under section 26.

(2) Despite subsection (1), the head of a public body may refuse to confirm or deny the existence of a record containing information described in section 13 or 15.

How access will be given

8(1) If an applicant is told under section 7(1) that access will be given, the head of the public body concerned must comply with this section.

(2) When the applicant has asked for a copy of a record, if

(a) the record, or the part of it to which access will be given, can be reasonably reproduced by the public body using its normal equipment and expertise, and

(b) creating the copy would not unreasonably interfere with the operations of the public body, the copy must be provided with the response or the applicant must be given reasons for the delay in providing the copy.

(3) When an applicant has asked to examine a record or when a copy is not being provided pursuant to subsection (2), the applicant must

(a) be permitted to examine the record or part of the record, or

(b) be given access in accordance with the regulations.

(4) Despite subsections (2) and (3), access to personal information about an applicant's physical or mental health may be given only in a manner authorized by the regulations.

- (b) a large number of records is requested or must be searched and meeting the time limit would unreasonably interfere with the operations of the public body,
- (c) more time is needed to consult with a third party or another public body before the head can decide whether or not the applicant is entitled under this Act to access to a requested record, or
- (d) a third party asks for a review under section 26.

(2) If the time is extended under subsection (1), the head of the public body must tell the applicant as soon as practicable

- (a) the reason for the extension,
- (b) when a response can be expected, and
- (c) that the applicant may ask for a review of the extension under section 26.

Transferring a

10(1) After a request for access to a record is received by a public body, the head of the public body may transfer the request and, if necessary, the record to another public body if

- (a) the record was produced by or for the other public body,
- (b) the other public body was the first to obtain the record, or
- (c) the record is in the custody or under the control of the other public body.

(2) If a request is transferred to another public body,

- (a) the head of the public body who transferred the request must notify the applicant of the transfer as soon as possible, and
