Part 2 Decision-making, Guardianship and Trusteeship

(2) An adult may, in a supported decision-making authorization, authorize a supporter to exercise some or all of the following powers in respect of a decision to be made by the adult referred to in the authorization:

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), a person may refuse to recognize a decision made or communicated by or with the assistance of a supporter as the decision of the supported adult if the person has reasonable grounds to believe that

- (a) the supporter exercised undue influence on the supported adult in assisting the supported adult to make the decision, or

Termination of supported decision-making authorization

7(1) A supported adult may terminate a supported decision-making authorization.

Access to personal information

9(1) A supporter who is authorized to access, collect or obtain or assist the supported adult in accessing, collecting or obtaining information that is relevant to a decision referred to in a supported decision-making authorization is entitled to access, collect or obtain from a public body, custodian or organization personal

- (b) a co-decision-making order made in respect of the person does not take effect until the person attains the age of 18 years.

Application of Division

12 This Division applies only in respect of personal matters.

Co-decision-making order

13(1) An adult on the adult’s own behalf or an interested person may apply to the Court, in accordance with the regulations, for an order appointing a co-decision-maker for an adult.

(2) The following documents must be filed in support of an application for a co-decision-making order under this section:

- (a) subject to section 104, a capacity assessment report respecting the adult who is the subject of the application, and
- (b) any other documents prescribed by the regulations.

(3) If an application under subsection (1) is made by an interested person, a notice of the application in the prescribed form must be personally served, in accordance with the regulations, on the adult who is the subject of the application.

(4) The Court may, on an application under this section, make an order appointing a co-decision-maker for an adult if

- (a) the Court is satisfied that

- (i) the adult's capacity to make decisions about the personal matters that are to be referred to in the order is significantly impaired,
- (ii) the adult would have the capacity to make decisions about the personal matters that are to be referred to in the order if the adult were provided with appropriate guidance and support,
- (iii) less intrusive and less restrictive alternative measures than the appointment of a co-decision-maker for providing assistance to the adult in making decisions about the personal matters that are to be referred to in the order, including the making of a supported decision-making authorization, have been considered or implemented and would not likely be or have not been effective to meet the needs of the adult, and
- (iv) it is in the adult's best interests to make the order,
- (b) any individual who is proposed to be appointed as a co-decision-maker consents to the appointment, and
- (c) the adult consents
 - (i) to the appointment of any individual who is proposed to be appointed as a co-decision-maker, and
 - (ii) to the order.

(5) In determining whether it is in the adult's best interests to appoint a co-decision-maker, the Court shall consider

- (a) subject to section 104, the capacity assessment report respecting the adult and any other relevant information respecting the adult's capacity,
- (b) the report of the review officer,
- (c) any personal directive made by the adult,
- (d) any supported decision-making authorization made by the adult,
- (e) whether the significant impairment of the adult's capacity to make decisions about the matters that are to be referred to in the order is likely to expose the adult to harm,

- (f) the personal matters with respect to which the adult's capacity to make decisions has been assessed as significantly impaired and with respect to which the adult needs or will likely need to make decisions,
- (g) whether the appointment of a co-decision-maker would be likely to produce benefits for the adult that would outweigh any adverse consequences for the adult, and
- (h) any other matter the Court considers relevant.

Persons eligible to be co-decision-maker

14(1) The Court may appoint as a co-decision-maker for an adult an individual who is 18 years of age or older, who consents to act as co-decision-maker and who the Court is satisfied

- (a) will act in the adult's best interests, and
- (b) is suitable to be appointed as co-decision-maker having regard to
 - (i) the views and wishes of the adult,
 - (ii) the relationship between the adult and the proposed co-decision-maker, insofar as it appears relevant to the ability of the proposed co-decision-maker to discharge the responsibilities of co-decision-maker,
 - (iii) the apparent ability of the proposed co-decision-maker to assist the adult to make the decisions about the personal matters to be referred to in the order,
 - (iv) any matter prescribed by the regulations, and
 - (v) any other matter the Court considers relevant.

(2) In assessing whether a proposed co-decision-maker will act in the best interests of an adult, the Court may consider evidence of any matter, including a potential conflict of interest, that might create a substantial risk that the proposed co-decision-maker would not act in the adult's best interests.

(3) For the purposes of subsection (2), a proposed co-decision-maker shall not be considered to have a potential conflict of interest by reason only that the proposed co-decision-maker

- (a) is a relative of the adult, or
- (b) is a potential beneficiary of the adult.

Public Guardian and Public Trustee may not be co-decision-maker

15 The Court may not appoint the Public Guardian or the Public Trustee as a co-decision-maker.

Appointment of multiple co-decision-makers

16(1) The Court may appoint one or more co-decision-makers for an adult.

(2) If the Court makes an order appointing more than one co-decision-maker, the Court shall specify whether the co-decision-makers are to act jointly, successively or separately in respect of specified personal matters.

Terms of co-decision-making order

17(1) The Court shall specify in a co-decision-making order the personal matters in respect of which the adult is required to make decisions with a co-decision-maker.

- (f) the adult's employment;

- (g) the carrying on of any legal proceeding that does not relate primarily to the financial matters of the adult;
- (h) any other personal matter the Court considers necessary.

(3) If the Court is aware that an adult who is the subject of an application for a co-decision-making order has made a personal directive that is in effect, the Court may not make a co-decision-making order requiring the adult to make decisions with a co-decision-maker relating to a personal matter with respect to which an agent has authority under the personal directive.

(4) If the Court is aware that an adult who is the subject of an application for a co-decision-making order has made a supported decision-making authorization, the Court shall specify in the co-decision-making order whether or not the supported decision-making authorization remains in effect and may give any instructions respecting the supported decision-making authorization that the Court considers appropriate.

(5) The Court may specify in a co-decision-making order that a contract respecting a personal matter is voidable if it is not in writing and signed by the assisted adult and the co-decision-maker.

(6) The Court may make a co-decision-making order subject to any conditions, limits or requirements that it considers necessary.

(7) On making a co-decision-making order, the Court

- (a) shall specify a date in the order by which an application for a review of the order must be made, if the capacity assessment report indicates that the assisted adult's capacity is likely to improve, or
- (b) may specify a date in the order by which an application for a review of the order must be made, in any other case.

(8) It is a condition of every co-decision-making order that the assisted person may terminate the order by filing a withdrawal of consent in the prescribed form with the clerk of the Court.

(9) A co-decision-making order terminates on the filing of a withdrawal of consent.

(10) An assisted person who files a withdrawal of consent shall serve a filed copy of the withdrawal of consent on each co-decision-maker named in the co-decision-making order in accordance with the regulations.

(11) The clerk of the Court shall send a filed copy of a withdrawal of consent to the Public Guardian without delay.

(12) On receipt of a withdrawal of consent, the Public Guardian shall, subject to the regulations, take the actions that the Public Guardian considers appropriate for the purpose of determining whether any necessary arrangements have been or will be made in respect of the assisted person.

Authority and duties of co-decision-maker

18(1) A co-decision-maker shall exercise the co-decision-maker's authority

- (a) in the assisted adult's best interests,
- (b) diligently, and
- (c) in good faith.

(2) Subject to any conditions, limits or requirements set out in the co-decision-making order, a co-decision-maker shall

- (a) assist the assisted adult to access, collect or obtain from any person the information that is relevant to the personal matters with respect to which the assisted adult is required to make decisions with the co-decision-maker, and
- (b) discuss the relevant information with the assisted adult and assist the assisted adult in making those decisions.

(4) A co-decision-maker may do all things necessary to give effect to decisions of the assisted adult made with the co-decision-maker.

(5) A co-decision-maker shall not refuse to sign a document respecting a matter referred to in section 17(5) if a reasonable person could have made the decision and the decision is not likely to result in harm to the assisted adult.

Payment to co-decision-makers

(5) On an application for a review of a co-decision-making order under subsection (1), the Court

- (a) shall make an order terminating a co-decision-making order where the Court is satisfied that the assisted person's capacity to make decisions about all of the personal matters in respect of which the order is made is no longer significantly impaired, and
- (b) may make an order terminating a co-decision-making order, an order discharging a co-decision-maker and appointing a new co-decision-maker, or any other order the Court considers appropriate in the circumstances, where the Court is satisfied that

26(1) An interested person may apply to the Court, in accordance with this section and the regulations, for an order appointing a guardian for an adult.

(2) Where, in the opinion of a Public Guardian, an adult is in need of a guardian and no person is willing, able and suitable to make an application for the appointment of a guardian, the Public Guardian shall, in accordance with the regulations, apply to the Court for an order appointing a guardian for the adult.

(3) The following documents must be filed in support of an application for a guardianship order under this section:

- (b) a guardianship plan in the prescribed form, and
- (c) any other documents prescribed by the regulations.

(4) Subject to subsection (5), a notice, in the prescribed form, of an application under this section must be personally served, in accordance with the regulations, on the adult who is the subject of the application.

(5) If the Court is satisfied that notification of an application under this section would be harmful to the adult who is the subject of the application, the Court may make an order dispensing with service under subsection (4).

(6) The Court may, on an application under this section, make an order appointing a guardian for an adult if the Court is satisfied that

- (a) the adult does not have the capacity to make decisions about the personal matters that are to be referred to in the order,
- (b) less intrusive and less restrictive alternative measures than the appointment of a guardian have been considered or have been implemented and would not likely be or have not been effective to meet the needs of the adult, and
- (c) it is in the adult's best interests to make the order.

(7) In determining whether it is in an adult's best interests to appoint a guardian, the Court shall consider

- (a) subject to section 104, the capacity assessment report respecting the adult and any other relevant information respecting the adult's capacity,
- (b) the report of the review officer,
- (c) the proposed guardianship plan,
- (d) any personal directive made by the adult,

- (h) the personal matters with respect to which the adult needs or will likely need to make decisions,
- (i) whether the appointment of a guardian would be likely to produce benefits for the adult that would outweigh any adverse consequences for the adult, and
- (j) any other matter the Court considers relevant.

Guardianship order in urgent cases

27(1) An interested person who has reason to believe that

- (a) an adult lacks the capacity to make a decision about a personal matter, and
- (b) there is immediate danger of death of the adult or serious physical or mental harm to the adult and it is necessary for someone to make decisions to prevent the death of or harm to the adult, may apply to the Court, in accordance with the regulations, for a guardianship order under this section.

(2) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Act or the regulations, on an application under this section the Court, if satisfied that the urgency of the matter makes it appropriate to do so, may dispense with or modify any requirement that would otherwise apply, including any requirement respecting

- (a) the documents to be filed in support of the application,
- (b) service of notice of the application, and
- (c) the evidence that may be considered on the application.

(3) The Court may, on an application under this section, appoint a guardian for the adult who is the subject of the application if the Court is satisfied that there is evidence that the adult

- (a) lacks the capacity to make a decision about a personal matter, and
- (b) is in immediate danger of
 - (i) death, or
 - (ii) suffering serious physical or mental harm

if a guardianship order is not granted under this section.

(4) The Court shall, in a guardianship order granted under this section, specify a date, not later than 90 days after the date of the guardianship order, by which the guardianship order must be reviewed by the Court and after which the guardianship order expires unless it is extended under subsection (5)(b).

(5) On a review of a guardianship order granted under this section, the Court may

Persons eligible to be guardian

28(1) The Court may appoint as a guardian for an adult an individual who is 18 years of age or older, who consents to act as guardian and who the Court is satisfied

- (b) is suitable to be appointed as guardian having regard to
 - (i) the views and wishes of the adult, if ascertainable,
 - (ii) the relationship between the adult and the proposed guardian insofar as it appears relevant to the ability of the proposed guardian to discharge the responsibilities of guardian,

- (iii) the apparent ability of the proposed guardian to effectively exercise authority about the personal matters to be referred to in the order,
- (iv) any matter prescribed by the regulations, and
- (v) any other matter the Court considers relevant.

(2) In assessing whether a proposed guardian will act in the best interests of an adult, the Court may consider evidence of any matter, including a potential conflict of interest, that might create a substantial risk that the proposed guardian would not act in the adult's best interests.

(3) For the purposes of subsection (2), a proposed guardian shall not be considered to have a potential conflict of interest by reason only that the proposed guardian

- (a) is a relative of the adult, or
- (b) is a potential beneficiary of the adult.

Appointment of Public Guardian as guardian

29(1) The Court may appoint a Public Guardian as a guardian for an adult only

- (a) on the application of the Public Guardian,

 - (ii) the Public Guardian has been notified of and given a reasonable opportunity to make representations to the Court regarding the proposed appointment.

(2) The Public Guardian may apply to the Court for the termination or amendment of a guardianship order made contrary to subsection (1).

Appointment of guardian other than proposed guardian

30 If the Court is satisfied that it is appropriate to make a guardianship order in respect of an adult but is not satisfied that the proposed guardian meets the requirements of section 28, the Court may, on any notice the Court directs, appoint as guardian another person who meets the requirements of section 28.

Appointment of multiple guardians

31(1) The Court may appoint one or more guardians for an adult.

(2) Where the Court appoints 2 or more guardians for an adult, the Court

- (a) may grant a guardian exclusive authority to act and make decisions respecting specified personal matters of the adult, and
- (b) may provide that the guardians are to act jointly or separately in respect of any one or more personal matters of the adult.

(3) Except as otherwise provided under subsection (2), if 2 or more guardians are appointed for an adult, the guardians may act and make decisions separately respecting the personal matters of the adult specified in the order.

(4) If the Public Guardian is appointed as one of 2 or more guardians for an adult, the Court shall grant the Public Guardian exclusive authority to act and make decisions respecting specified personal matters of the adult, and the Public Guardian's authority and responsibility are limited to those personal matters.

Appointment of alternate guardian

32(1) The Court may appoint an alternate guardian for an adult if

- (a) the person proposed as alternate guardian has given written consent to the appointment, and
- (b) the Court is satisfied that the persons on whom notice of the application for a guardianship order or a review of a guardianship order is required to be served pursuant to the regulations have had sufficient notice of the willingness of the person proposed as alternate guardian to act as an alternate guardian.

(2) Section 28 applies to a person proposed as an alternate guardian.

(3) Subject to the terms of the guardianship order, if an alternate guardian is appointed, the alternate guardian shall act as guardian without further proceedings

(a) on becoming aware of

- (i) the death of the previous guardian,
- (ii) the appointment of a guardian or trustee for the previous guardian, or
- (iii) the coming into effect, because of the previous guardian's incapacity, of a personal directive or enduring power of attorney made by the previous guardian, or

(b) if authorized in writing by the previous guardian, during the period set out in the authorization.

(4) An authorization under subsection (3)(b) must indicate the period during which the alternate guardian may act as guardian and terminates

(a) at the end of the period indicated on the authorization, or

(b) when revoked in writing by the previous guardian, whichever is earlier.

(5) Where an alternate guardian acts as guardian because of an event referred to in subsection (3)(a), the alternate guardian shall notify the clerk of the Court in writing and provide evidence of the event, in accordance with the regulations, to the clerk of the Court.

(6) Where an alternate guardian acts as guardian, the authority of the alternate guardian is the same as that of the previous guardian.

(7) In this section, "previous guardian" means a guardian for whom the alternate guardian is designated as alternate in the guardianship order.

Terms of guardianship order

33(1) The Court shall, in a guardianship order, grant to the guardian authority to act and make decisions with respect to only those personal matters of the adult that the Court considers necessary.

(4) A guardian may, with the approval of the Court, amend a guardianship plan.

(5) If the Court is aware that the adult who is the subject of an application for a guardianship order has made a personal directive that is in effect, the Court may not grant to a guardian any authority that may be exercised by an agent under the personal directive unless the Court terminates the authority of the agent.

(6) If the Court is aware that the adult who is the subject of an application for a guardianship order has made a supported decision-making authorization, the Court shall specify in the guardianship order whether or not the supported decision-making authorization remains in effect and may give any instructions respecting the supported decision-making authorization that the Court considers appropriate.

(7) If a co-decision-making order is in effect with respect to the adult who is the subject of an application for a guardianship order, the Court shall specify in the guardianship order whether the co-decision-making order ceases to be in effect or remains in effect in whole or in part and may give any instructions respecting the co-decision-making order that the Court considers appropriate.

(8) The Court may make a guardianship order subject to any conditions, limits or requirements that it considers necessary.

(9) On making a guardianship order, the Court

- (a) shall specify a date in the order by which an application for a review of the order must be made, if the capacity assessment report indicates that the represented adult's capacity is likely to improve, or

Authority of guardian

34(1) A guardian may act, make decisions, give consents and do any thing with respect to those personal matters of the represented adult with respect to which the guardian has been granted authority in the guardianship order and may sign documents and do all things necessary to give effect to any authority vested in the guardian.

(2) Any action taken, decision made, consent given or thing done by a guardian with respect to a personal matter of the represented adult referred to in subsection (1) has the same effect for all purposes as if the represented adult had taken the action, made the decision, given the consent or done the thing while having capacity.

(3) A guardian, subject to any provision contained in the guardianship order appointing the guardian, may purchase necessities for the represented adult without the consent of the represented adult, any trustee of the represented adult or any attorney under an enduring power of attorney.

(4) When a guardian purchases necessities for the represented adult under subsection (3),

- (a) the represented adult is liable to pay for the necessities or reimburse the guardian for the cost of the necessities, or

35(1) A guardian shall exercise the guardian's authority

- (a) in the represented adult's best interests,

- (e) in the least intrusive and least restrictive manner that, in the opinion of the guardian, is likely to be effective.

(2) Notwithstanding subsection (1), where a guardian has been granted authority with respect to a personal matter with respect to which a personal directive of the represented adult contains instructions, the guardian shall exercise the guardian's authority in accordance with any clear and relevant instructions in the personal directive.

(3) A guardian shall comply with any conditions, limits or requirements set out in the guardianship order.

(4) On the making of a guardianship order, the guardian shall, promptly and in a manner that the represented adult is likely to best understand, inform the represented adult of the guardian's appointment, the extent of the guardian's authority and any if there is no other guardian or alternate guardian with the authority to act with respect to the matters with respect to which the deceased or incapacitated guardian had authority, the Public Guardian becomes the guardian of the represented adult with the same authority as the deceased or incapacitated guardian.

(2) On becoming the guardian of a represented adult under subsection (1), the Public Guardian shall notify the clerk of the Court in writing of that fact and send evidence of the event referred to in subsection (1)(a), (b) or (c), in accordance with the regulations, to the clerk of the Court.

Order to give effect to decision

38(1) A guardian may apply to the Court, in accordance with the regulations, for an order under this section where the guardian has reason to believe that

 - (ii) a person is obstructing the doing of anything necessary to give effect to the decision, and

- (b) there would be a serious risk to the health or safety of the represented adult if the decision were not given effect.

(2) Where the Court is satisfied that the circumstances referred to in subsection (1)(a) and (b) exist, the Court may make any order the Court considers necessary and appropriate to give effect to the decision of the guardian, including, without limitation, an order authorizing the police to assist the guardian or another person in doing anything necessary to give effect to the decision.

39(1) A guardian may apply, in accordance with the regulations, for the opinion, advice or direction of the Court on any question respecting the represented adult.

 - (ii) suitability to be a guardian for the represented person.
