Bill No. 6 of 1941.

A BILL TO AMEND THE WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION ACT, 1938

NOTE.

This Bill amends The Workmen's Compensation Act, 1938.

The effect of this amendment is to bring the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen under the Act, leaving only the Order of Railway Conductors in Alberta outside the scope of the Act. The Bill has been prepared at the request of the Chairman of the Alberta Sub-Legislative Board of the said brotherhood, the request being supported by satisfactory proof that the constitution of the order has been complied with and that a vote of the members resulted in a substantial majority in favour of the members being placed under The Workmen's Compensation Act, 1938. The Brotherhood were outside the Act as the result of a vote taken in 1928 when it, together with the Order of Railway Conductors, voted to remain outside the Act.

W. S. GRAY,
Acting Legislative Counsel.

(This note does not form any part of the Bill but is offered in explanation of its provisions.)
