WHEREAS it is deemed expedient for certain causes and considerations to convene the Legislative Assembly of Our Province of Alberta, WE DO WILL that you and each of you, and all others in this behalf interested, on THURSDAY, the TWENTY-FOURTH day of FEBRUARY, A.D. 1977, at the hour of THREE o'clock in the afternoon, at our city of Edmonton, personally be and appear for the despatch of business, to treat, act, do and conclude upon those things which in the Legislature of Our Province of Alberta, by the Common Council of Our said Province, may, by the favour of God, be ordained.

HEREIN FAIL NOT

IN TESTIMONY WHEREOF We have caused these Our Letters to be made Patent, and the Great Seal of Our Province to be hereunto affixed.

WITNESS: The Honourable RALPH G. STEINHAEUER, Lieutenant Governor of Our Province of Alberta, in Our City of Edmonton, in Our Province of Alberta, this 15th day of December, in the Year of Our Lord, One Thousand Nine Hundred and Seventy-six and in the Twenty-fifth Year of Our Reign.
By Command:

Provincial Secretary.

Mr. Speaker entered the Assembly and took the Chair.

His Honour then read the following Speech from the Throne.

SPEECH FROM THE THRONE

MR. SPEAKER, AND MEMBERS OF THE LEGISLATIVE ASSEMBLY:

I have the honour to welcome you to the Third Session of the Eighteenth Legislature of the Province of Alberta.

In recognition of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the reign of our Queen, Elizabeth II, I will send, on behalf of all Albertans, appropriate messages reflecting our deep respect for the monarchy and our warm wishes to her for the years ahead.

We are now marking the commemoration of the one hundredth anniversary of the signing, by the Indian people and representatives of Her Majesty, of Treaties Number Six and Number Seven. This is obviously a special event for me personally, and my people join with me and with all Albertans in welcoming His Royal Highness Prince Charles to Alberta this summer to participate in the colourful commemoration ceremonies.

The Province of Alberta is truly a fortunate part of this great country in the year nineteen hundred and seventy-seven. It is abundant in talent and natural resources. This Legislature and our institutions reflect stability and integrity. Alberta is the most dynamic area in Canada — not only in economic terms, but in the vibrant life of our people — be they at work, enjoying the outdoors, participating in the arts and education, or at home with their families.

There still remains, though, a number of Alberta citizens who are not participating fully in the general prosperity. My government will continue its efforts to reduce such inequities. Many reforms and improvements have been initiated, but some programs are still incomplete. The challenge of effectively managing the many problems deriving from very rapid growth in some centres must be met.

My government intends to continue its responsible objective of restraint in government expenditure, size and growth. To achieve this goal, a continued reduction in the number of new programs and a consolidation of existing programs will be necessary. The growth in the size of the public service will be further restricted. My government recognizes that there is a developing consensus by Albertans and that they may be asking too much of the government, that expectations must be reduced, and that desirable but non-essential activities must be the personal responsibility of the citizen, the parent, the family and the community.

During the 1977 spring and fall sittings of the Legislature, my government will seek support from the Members for five specific priorities:

1. To re-assess the goals and objectives of our basic education system and to consider the desirability of providing greater emphasis on the acquisition of knowledge and skills.
2. To build on last year's record performance and to provide, again this year, unprecedented funding for the construction of housing and shelter units for our citizens.
3. To further improve the already high standard of our health services in both rural and urban areas — and to expand extended care and applied research facilities.
4. To propose legislation which will assure the balanced planning and utilization of our precious land resource for Albertans and their children.
5. To take selected initiatives in international tariff and trade matters as may be required to improve access to essential new markets for our agricultural and other products.

THE ALBERTA ECONOMY

More Albertans have jobs, as a percentage of our population, than in any other province, and there is solid investor confidence and commitment. As a result, in economic terms, Alberta is by far the strongest province in Canada. The Canadian petroleum industry, centred in Alberta, anticipates another record year of activity. The prospects for our important agriculture industry are mixed, with income from grains expected to be lower. However, a strengthening of prices for our livestock producers may partly offset this factor. With the lowest tax rates, Albertans have more funds, in terms of disposable income, for personal and family expenditure than citizens in any other part of the country.

However, as my Government has consistently stated, the Alberta economy is still based upon too precarious a foundation because it is overly dependent upon the sale of unprocessed oil and natural gas. These are depleting, non-renewable resources. As they disappear, our economy becomes more fragile.

Further steps in the strategy of economic diversification will be taken, and reports will be made as to the continuing challenges posed by transportation hurdles, particularly in relation to freight rates.

Alberta has been a firm supporter of the national effort to reduce inflation. My government's future plans will be proposed to the Assembly in March.

RESTRAINT PROGRAM

Last November the Provincial Treasurer announced the continuation of the expenditure restraint program for the second year, commencing on April 1, 1977. Municipal governments, school boards, post-secondary institutions, hospital boards and health units were advised that grants for the forthcoming year would not exceed a ten percent increase over the previous year. In the Budget, my government will present estimates for expenditure which reflect this ten percent restraint guideline for all provincial government expenditures, subject to such special exceptions as may be approved by the Legislature.

EDUCATION

Working with school boards and educators throughout the province, my government will ensure the continued provision of high quality education for over four hundred thousand school children in Alberta. There will be a re-assessment of the goals and objectives of our basic education system and the priorities that should be given to certain goals and objectives. A shift in emphasis to basic skills may be indicated. Recommendations from Members of the Assembly, the Curriculum Policies Board, the general public and interested groups will be welcomed. The levels of achievement by our students will receive close scrutiny by the Minister's Advisory Committee on Student Achievement. Further consideration will be given to the place of provincial examinations in our educational system.

Students from disadvantaged areas of the province will continue to receive help in the acquisition of basic skills under the compensatory component of the highly successful Educational Opportunities Fund. Selective expansion of even more special educational services for the learning disabled and handicapped will take place.

LIBRARIES

As an integral part of the process of basic, continuing and further education, adequate library services are needed throughout the province. Accordingly, plans for major policy changes and enlarged support for libraries will be announced. Not only is significantly increased financial support for urban and rural library development involved, in addition, a number of ancillary measures to upgrade library standards and services will be outlined.

ADVANCED EDUCATION AND MANPOWER

Close attention to and support for Alberta's advanced education system will be maintained. Significant amendments to The Universities Act and The Colleges Act will be proposed. Governing bodies at universities and colleges will be expanded to include more public members. A new Banff Centre Act will reflect its uniqueness as an institution for the fine arts and performing arts. The opportunities provided by our technical and agricultural institutions will continue to be in high demand.

Alberta's manpower initiatives, so crucial to the provision of more and better jobs for Albertans of all ages, will be further developed. Alberta vocational training programs will continue to play a significant role in meeting the needs of the unemployed and the disadvantaged. New developments in the health - manpower sector will be set forth. The Trades Schools Advisory Board will acquire more public representation.

A position paper outlining my government's Science and Research Policy will be presented to the Legislature.

HOUSING

The upgrading and improving of older homes in the province is a policy goal of my government. Phase One of the Senior Citizens' Home Improvement Program has been an outstanding success with twenty-five thousand applications approved. It provided a grant of one thousand dollars to all qualified senior citizens for the upgrading and improvement of their homes. Phase Two of this program will be initiated in 1977; it is expected that an additional twenty thousand senior citizens will benefit from a home improvement grant under the program.

The nearly thirty-nine thousand housing starts in Alberta in 1976 is a record number for the province and represents the best per capita performance of any Canadian province. Building on this record of achievement, my government will continue to stimulate and assist in the construction of additional shelter units for more Albertans at affordable costs.

Our land banking and development program, in cooperation with municipalities, is being accelerated. In addition, a Residential Land Development Fund involving the private sector will be announced — it will increase the supply of serviced land to the house building industry. The Modest Apartment Programs will be expanded and the Core Housing Incentive Program will continue to help to improve supply of modest rental accommodation in rural and urban Alberta. The successful Starter Home Ownership Program, designed for first-time home buyers, will be continued in 1977. Senior citizen housing will again be a priority with even more units than last year to be constructed throughout the province.

HOSPITALS AND MEDICAL CARE

Alberta's hospital and medical care system provides Canada's highest quality health services for our citizens. The Alberta Health Sciences Centre project will give Alberta the lead in health care research and will provide excellent health education facilities. As well, it will act as a patient referral centre for all Albertans by providing them with the finest diagnostic and health care services available. The Alberta Children's Hospital in Calgary will also serve as a major provincial referral centre and will specialize in the care of our younger generation.

Supported by the Alberta Heritage Savings Trust Fund, further expansion in cancer and heart disease research, detection, and treatment and rehabilitation has been initiated. During the fall Session a progress report on these unique provincial initiatives will be made.

Health care centres providing services from acute through long term care were opened in Mannville, Radway and Elk Point.

The health care centre in Provost will be opened shortly. Projects under construction or major renovations will take place at Barrhead, Fairview, High Prairie, Islay, McLennan, Peace River and Trochu. Major construction and renovations are under way in the regional hospitals at Red Deer and Lethbridge and new facilities are planned for Medicine Hat and Grande Prairie. In order to continue to improve our services to senior citizens, new extended care facilities are under construction at Bow Island, the Dr. Vernon Fanning Extended Care Centre in Calgary, the Bethany Geriatric Complex in Calgary and the Dickensfield Extended Care Centre in Edmonton.

An improved and more equitable method of providing financial support to nursing homes is being designed to assure flexibility and fairness in the funding of nursing homes of different sizes, locations, debt structures and designs. New incentives to further encourage voluntary and religious organizations to build and operate nursing homes will be a feature of the revised policy.

SOCIAL SERVICES AND COMMUNITY HEALTH

Alberta's Social Services and Community Health programs are among the best in the nation. There will be renewed emphasis on services to persons who are mentally retarded or mentally ill. My government endorses the work of volunteer agencies and supports the thousands of citizens who donate their time to these good works. The encouragement of individual responsibility for the maintenance of healthy bodies and minds will be continued.

The COM-SERV Association of southwestern Alberta will be receiving special attention as a demonstration model of service coordination for mentally retarded persons.

In Edmonton, construction will commence on five new community resource centres to provide residential and day care for one hundred dependent handicapped persons and fifty family members.

A new forensic unit at Alberta Hospital Edmonton will provide treatment for the mentally ill who have come into conflict with the law. The unit will provide intensive assessment and both medium and long term rehabilitative therapy and will have appropriate areas of maximum security.

Again this year my government is making available two hundred and fifty thousand dollars specifically for research in mental health. This money is dispersed through the Provincial Mental Health Advisory Council.

Following receipt of Dr. Menno Boldt's study on suicide, a steering committee has been struck to design a pilot project to advise further on the development of services to combat this problem.

The Senior Citizens' Advisory Council, established in September 1976, is now providing advice to my government with respect to future services for senior citizens in Alberta.

Alberta is among the leaders in providing a high level of income support to senior citizens through the Alberta Assured Income Plan.

My government is improving both community and institutional services for children. Legislation will be introduced which will allow officials to restrict the freedom of those young people who will endanger themselves or others. The Handicapped Children's Services Program meets the needs of children without their coming under the direct care of the government.

The Nursing Assistant Act which will transfer nursing aide education to the Minister of Advanced Education and Manpower, will be introduced.

The Alberta Alcoholism and Drug Abuse Commission continues to expand its range of services largely through effective management of available resources. In 1976, a new Alcoholism Rehabilitation Centre was opened at Bonnyville. In early 1977 the Commission will open a new centre with special program content in a rural setting near Alsiike. It is designed to help persons for whom more traditional program concepts are not suitable. These programs follow the Commission philosophy of encouraging the concept of personal responsibility for behaviour associated with intoxicants.

In cooperation with the Attorney General's Department an extended effort will be made throughout the province to enforce delinquent single parent family payments for maintenance and alimony.

Maintaining and improving a high standard of social services require a strong and growing Alberta economy. Because it involves a renewable resource, agriculture remains our base industry.

The key to long-term stability for our farmers is better access to domestic and world markets for Alberta farm products, at stable prices. My government's numerous international trade and tariff initiatives will be the subject of a special report to the Legislature.

Nineteen seventy-seven could be the crucial year in this decade in respect to international trade opportunities for Alberta and the West. The focus will be on negotiations towards a General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade, which could culminate in Geneva during the next year.

Alberta's significant submissions to Canada's tariff and trade negotiators will be presented to the Legislature. Canada's and Alberta's essential interest in bilateral tariff and trade arrangements with our biggest trading partner — the United States — will be outlined to the Legislature.

Marketing activities will be expanded throughout the coming year. Priorities will include provision of better market information for the livestock industry and the increased promotion of Alberta products. The new International Marketing Branch will seek and develop export markets for our agricultural products. Continued emphasis will be placed on the development of agricultural processing industries located within the province — they are a vital part of the province's diversification strategy.

My government's decentralization program will continue. The Alberta Hail and Crop Insurance Corporation and the Field Crops Branch will move to Lacombe. A major agricultural facility, including regional offices, animal and food laboratories, will be completed in Airdrie. A new veterinary clinic will be opened in Fort Vermilion. The construction of a Swine Centre at Leduc will provide new incentives for expansion in the hog industry.

The Irrigation Development Program, a highlight of the Alberta Heritage Savings Trust Fund, will be in full operation through 1977 and will further strengthen the economy of southern Alberta.

The effective Agriculture Development Corporation will expand its activities. A revised Beginner Farmer Program and a new Father/Son Lending Program will assist in bringing young people into agriculture. Amendments to The Farm Implement Act will be introduced to provide for more comprehensive warranties, emergency repair services and increased consumer protection.

ENERGY AND NATURAL RESOURCES

In the energy area, exploration and development activities are at an all time high, creating jobs for many Albertans. The Alberta Petroleum Exploration Incentive Plan of December 1974 has been the prime stimulus.

My government is guiding two major research thrusts within the energy and resource sectors. The Oil Sands Technology and Research Authority will be implementing, jointly with industry, several major experimental schemes for the development of deeper oil sands deposits in the Peace River, Fort McMurray and Cold Lake areas. As well, the Authority will be considering research proposals for the efficient recovery and upgrading of Lloydminster-type heavy oils.

A second major research program, involving approximately one hundred million dollars, relates to Alberta's conventional petroleum, coal and other energy and renewable resources. Resulting from successful negotiations with the federal government over the past twelve months, monies are now targeted for research on enhanced recovery of crude oil, coal mining and conversion technology and utilization and renewable energy resources. Among other benefits, these programs will train and provide jobs for young Albertans in scientific engineering and natural resource technology.

To better identify the timber supply available for harvesting in future years, my government will commence a comprehensive new inventory of forestry resources in 1977. This move will assist my government's plans, over the intermediate term, to make the forest product industry a more significant component of the Alberta economy.

PUBLIC LANDS

Planning for the expansion of the grazing reserve program is well under way. A number of new grazing reserves will be announced during the forthcoming year, particularly in northern Alberta.

Land use zoning in the Eastern Slopes is now almost completed — this initiative, coupled with the development of specific management plans, will result in more expeditious handling of applications for the use of land in that area. A comprehensive policy statement on the management and administration of public lands will be developed during the year. The accelerated Public Land Inspection Program will be further expanded to provide a quicker response to citizens applying for use of those lands.

MUNICIPAL AFFAIRS

Following wide-ranging discussions and advice from many Albertans, a new Planning Act will be presented to the Assembly in 1977. It will reflect an updated and comprehensive review of all land use and planning policies in the province and will point the way for balanced planning in the next decade.

Recommendations for improvements in municipal elections and revisions to improve county administration, resulting from input by local government representatives, will be proposed in amendments to The Municipal Election Act and The County Act.

Recognizing the importance of land use planning within the major urban areas, requests by Edmonton and Calgary for assistance in the preparation of their general plans will be accommodated. In addition, my government proposes the re-writing and modernization of the Alberta Assessment Manual.

ENVIRONMENT

The Department of Environment will expand its unique public water resource programs. Following completion of the public hearings on the Red Deer River, a decision will be made, and planning commenced for an overdue system of flow regulation to assist citizens in central Alberta. Preparation for similar hearings regarding the Oldman River will be completed. The Red Deer Regional Water Line will be in operation this year, bringing an assured supply of water to a number of communities. The Northeast Utilities Study, centered on the Edmonton area, will be finalized.

The protection and enhancement of Alberta's land resources will be sustained by my government. Supported by the Alberta Heritage Savings Trust Fund, over one hundred and fifty projects for the reclamation of abandoned gravel pits and land fill sites, and the closing of old mine shafts, will be proceeded with this year.

The popular Beverage Container Act will be rewritten to reflect recent trends in the marketing of beverages. An Act to control the use of chemicals and pesticides will be introduced in the fall Session.

TRANSPORTATION

My government will intensify its efforts to rationalize rail transport services and freight rates. Updated policies respecting the trucking industry and those who use it will follow the report of the Select Legislative Committee on Trucking 'Regulations. Highway and airport programs will emphasize a balance of services for agricultural needs, recreational travel, access to remote areas and research and industrial development. A new program is being designed to assist cities, towns and villages in the improvement of streets and public transportation systems. Increased assistance to urban centres will be provided through my government's policy for major continuous transportation corridors through cities. Innovative approaches to Alberta's transportation needs will be pursued through such concepts as the Northwest Rail Authority and the use of hoverlift ferries.

Efforts to encourage the improvement of driving skills and vehicle safety will be reinforced. A new community information program will precede conversion of highway signing to the metric system.

LABOUR

The second stage of the three year development of the Occupational Health and Safety Program is proceeding. Important regulations relating to joint work site committees established under The Occupational Health and Safety Act will be announced.

Proposed increases in benefits under The Workers' Compensation Act will be submitted to the Assembly for approval. They flow directly from the recommendations of the Select Legislative Committee and of the Advisory Committee to the Minister of Labour.

Recent public hearings in Edmonton and Calgary have provided an opportunity for individuals, employees, trade unions, employers and employer organizations to express their current thinking in regard to labour management relations legislation. My government is currently assessing the many submissions made, and appropriate legislative amendments will be introduced during the fall sittings.

ATTORNEY GENERAL

My government has acted decisively on many of the key recommendations of the Kirby Board of Review.

New court facilities are under construction in many areas of the province, with special emphasis on rural Alberta. To better utilize these facilities and increase their effectiveness, Provincial Court circuits have been rearranged and several new Provincial Court Judges appointed. Our courts are now better staffed with new administrative personnel, Crown counsel and court reporters. New training programs have been developed and improved procedures and technology are being introduced into the courts. Top priority has been assigned to areas of special concern including witness scheduling, criminal case processing, case flow management and the decriminalization of the traffic courts.

Legislation will be introduced with respect to the traffic courts which will permit "guilty" and "not guilty" pleas to be entered and payment of specified penalties to be made outside the formal court setting at a time and date chosen by the person charged. Payment of penalties will be encouraged through a system of discounts for early payment together with driver licence and motor vehicle registration suspension mechanisms.

With respect to family law, my government will introduce legislation to provide for the enforcement in Alberta of custody orders made in other jurisdictions.

SOLICITOR GENERAL

My government will further expand on new initiatives taken in the corrections field last year, including the restitution and fine/option programs. Emphasis is on the therapeutic value of steady work as a basic policy objective in the correctional system. New work projects, for inmates and fine defaulters, will be developed in government parks and forests, in community agencies, within correctional institutions and in the reconstruction of heritage sites.

The capacity of the Wilderness Challenge Program at Nordegg Correctional Institution will be expanded. Structural improvements will be made to the Calgary Remand Centre, the Calgary Correctional Institution and the Fort Saskatchewan Correctional Institution.

My government will continue to place a high priority on crime prevention programs.

NATIVE AFFAIRS

My government continues to place special emphasis on native affairs. A further assessment of the possible extension of certain provincial services and programs to Treaty Indians will be conducted. New home building and renewal programs for isolated communities, stressing initiative at the local level, will be announced. Self-determination will be further encouraged through continuation of the autonomous housing program for the Metis colonies. Increased support for the Metis Housing Program, through the emergency trailer and transitional housing components, will be provided.

Activities under the Indian Treaty Commemoration Program will foster an understanding by all our citizens of the historical and cultural values of the Indian people. My government will welcome His Royal Highness Prince Charles to the re-enactment of the signing of Treaty Number Seven at Blackfoot Crossing and his later induction to the Kainai Chieftainship on the Blood Reserve.

RECREATION, PARKS AND WILDLIFE

Increasingly, citizens of all ages enjoy recreation and leisure activities in the great Alberta outdoors. A major capital construction program at Kananaskis Provincial Park will be undertaken in 1977. A system of classification of provincial park areas, with emphasis on small scale recreation developments, will be introduced.

The successful Major Cultural and Recreational Facility Development Program continues its positive impact on recreation development all over Alberta. New policies will allow increased access to funding under that program.

Citizens will be encouraged to develop a greater awareness of the need for fitness and exercise, and departmental programs designed to improve personal fitness will be expanded. The successful Alberta Summer and Winter Games will continue to offer greater opportunities for participation at all levels by Albertans.

BUSINESS DEVELOPMENT AND TOURISM

My government will further stimulate diversification of Alberta's economic base. The strategy for diversification involves many areas and is not overly dependent upon any particular segment of our economy. The development of Alberta as a new financial centre in Canada is occurring and is providing a number of challenging, new job opportunities. The maturing of the computer industry, in Calgary especially, is a positive development. The initial petrochemical project is progressing favourably, but further developments will depend largely upon market accessibility.

Recent data indicate that the rural population in Alberta has reversed previous trends; it is now increasing rather than declining. There are now dozens of small growth centres in Alberta. Supported by ten regional offices, the Department's program of rural development will be expanded to assist small businessmen outside the major cities.

Reflecting the significant work of the Northern Alberta Development Council, government programs and initiatives will continue to respond to the unique problems and opportunities associated with northern living.

A new industrial Land Assistance Program will provide needed assistance to small urban communities wishing to set up land banks.

The Alberta Opportunity Company will continue its programs, which have resulted in eighty million dollars in loans and guarantees being provided to over six hundred and fifty small businesses, more than two-thirds of which are located outside the metropolitan centres.

The Alberta Research Council will accelerate its energy related programs, such as coal gasification research.

Regarding our healthy tourist industry, increased emphasis will be placed on facility development rather than marketing. Both the private and public sectors in Alberta must plan for the establishment of additional destination areas and other improved facilities and services to meet the growing demands of Albertans and visitors to our province.

Export markets are increasingly important for Alberta. There will be special emphasis on trade development in the western United States, the Pacific Rim, the Soviet Union and the Middle East. New initiatives to attempt to lower or abolish those tariff and non-tariff barriers which restrict Alberta products from moving into foreign markets will be taken.

CULTURE

The viability and development of the performing arts has been enhanced by the new matching grant policy. It is providing unequalled incentives to volunteers and donors alike. My government will continue to encourage even more performances outside the metropolitan centres, for the enjoyment of all Albertans.

In order that historical resources be protected and not lost forever to future Albertans, my government will increase emphasis upon the identification, recording, excavation and preservation of important historical features.

In the area of international assistance, the people of Alberta continue to donate increasing amounts personally to the agencies which help the less fortunate in third world countries. My government will continue to match this assistance in direct support of those volunteer efforts. Albertans lead Canada in per capita donations for international assistance.

You will be asked to approve amendments to The Alberta Historical Resources Act, The Cultural Development Act and The Alberta Emblems Act.

CONSUMER AND CORPORATE AFFAIRS

Alberta consumers continue to be well served by the Department of Consumer and Corporate Affairs. The Unfair Trade Practices Program, with its emphasis on truth in advertising and selling, has received wide acceptance from both consumers and the business community. The Department has completed decentralization of its Consumer Relations Branch into six Regional Offices to make its facilities more accessible to Albertans.

The Rent Regulation Appeal Board has been successful in providing some relief to tenants. A decision with regard to the termination or continuation of rent controls will be made during the course of the spring sitting.

Important amendments to The Landlord and Tenant Act, relating to security of tenure, will be proposed. Amendments to The Condominium Property Act will make this increasingly popular form of home ownership a more viable personal investment and more accessible to the average citizen.

UTILITIES AND TELEPHONES

The successful price protection program for Alberta natural gas users has been a significant benefit for Albertans. The Minister recently announced that the Alberta Natural Gas Price Protection Program will continue for three years beginning in 1977. Details of the program will be announced in the Budget Address.

The Rural Gas Cooperatives Program, initiated in 1972, is now making natural gas available to over thirty-four thousand new rural users. The Minister will report on the progress of this program, and adjustments which have already been announced.

Your government is aware that a number of rural electric systems require rebuilding. With the cooperation of all participants, your government will accelerate its efforts to assist in providing arrangements for rebuilding these important systems. Amendments to The Alberta Government Telephones Act will be proposed, as will substantial revisions to The Hydro and Electric Energy Act.

TREASURY

Through the Alberta Heritage Savings Trust Fund Special Appropriation Bill, 1977, you will be requested to authorize the transfer of thirty percent of the revenues from our non-renewable oil and gas resources to the Fund, for the fiscal year commencing April 1, 1977.

Many of the recommendations of the Task Force on Provincial Public Service Labour Relations will be reflected in a proposed new bill which will establish a balanced, fair and contemporary approach.

Local governments will benefit from proposed increases to the borrowing limits of the Alberta Municipal Finance Corporation.

GOVERNMENT SERVICES AND PUBLIC WORKS

Increased productivity in many areas of Government Services has been accomplished.

A unique energy conservation program has been launched; it holds promise of a significant reduction in power consumption and dollar savings in the operation of government buildings. There will be greater emphasis on the use of automatic devices to reduce energy consumption.

Following the successful involvement of the private sector in printing services for the Queen's Printer, possible expansion of this concept to other areas is being actively assessed.

Public Works has been reorganized to permit more effective cost control of capital works projects. Building design is being increasingly related to energy conservation. The necessary ground work is being established for a smooth transition to the Metric system. The construction of government buildings throughout the smaller centres of Alberta is being accelerated.

FEDERAL AND INTERGOVERNMENTAL AFFAIRS

My government is fully aware of the need to broaden Alberta's perspective beyond our provincial borders. Activities involving interprovincial, federal-provincial, and international matters continue to expand.

The Minister will report on a number of important discussions and negotiations relating to tariffs and trade, energy pricing, shared-cost programs and constitutional developments.

Tabling of the Report of the Select Legislative Committee studying The Ombudsman Act is expected. An opportunity to debate the findings of the Committee will be provided, following which appropriate legislation will be presented.

Amendments to The Legislative Assembly Act, to implement the report of the Electoral Boundaries Commission, will be proposed. The Election Act will be opened to add provisions assisting voting procedures for the handicapped.

My government reaffirms its commitment on behalf of our citizens to national unity. The next few years will obviously be important ones for the future of Canada and the preservation of its federal system. Confederation has proven to be remarkably flexible in the past and my government has every confidence in the future of the country. My government believes that the future depends on the continuation of strong provinces and recognition of the diversity which has enriched our country.

Members of the Legislative Assembly! — In due course you will be presented with Budget proposals by my government to support these priorities and legislative initiatives, and to reflect a restraint program of consolidation. You will be asked to grant the necessary funds for the operating services and expenditures authorized by the Legislature and to endorse a program of capital financing for the Government of Alberta.

I leave you now to the business of the Session, with full confidence that as elected representatives your debates and your votes will reflect your understanding of the public interest of all the people of Alberta.

I pray for your wisdom and your strength in your deliberations.

Upon the motion of Hon. Mr. Foster, Acting Government House Leader, the following Bill was placed on the Order Paper under "Government Bills and Orders":

Bill No. 47 — The Alberta Government Telephones Amendment Act, 1977 — Dr. Webber

MINISTERIAL STATEMENTS:

Hon. Dr. Horner, Deputy Premier, made a statement pertaining to Alberta Government Resources for Grass/Forest Fire Fighting and Water Safety. Mr. Clark, the Honourable Leader of the Official Opposition, rising to respond to the statement, welcomed the announcement.

RULING BY MR. SPEAKER MAY 3rd, 1977

As a result of a Question asked April 21st, 1977 concerning alleged "Indirect" representations to or about His Honour The Lieutenant Governor, the following ruling was made by Mr. Speaker:

Hon. members may recall a question asked of the Hon. Premier by the Hon. Member for Spirit River-Fairview concerning alleged provincial representations to the federal authorities on the subject of statements said to have been made by His Honour the Lieutenant Governor.

Insofar as the question contains a preamble and refers to news reports, it is, of course, out of order.

Disregarding these extraneous aspects of the question asked, it is, in essence, an inquiry about "provincial representations" or advice to His Honour the Lieutenant Governor. It is further alleged that such representations were made via "federal authorities".

This point of order is unusually difficult. It is also unusually important.

Beauchesne says in citation 171(ii):

"A question oral or written must not:

introduce (the) name of, or contain reflection on the sovereign or Royal Family, or refer to influence of the Crown."

There is reason to doubt that this citation from Beauchesne can be taken literally. If it were, the result would be somewhat extreme. A mere mention of a member of the royal family would be out of order. For example, a question inquiring about the date or possibility of a royal visit could not be asked. Not even a question about the government's information concerning the health or safety of a member of the royal family or of the lieutenant governor would be allowed.

It is therefore necessary to examine the above citation from Beauchesne more critically.

Beauchesne obviously copied this citation verbatim from an older parliamentary reference work published in the United Kingdom. This text, by Campion, was not available in our library and had to be obtained by an inter-library loan so that the source of Beauchesne's citation could be checked. Campion, however, gives no basis for his statement. He does not show whether it is related to anything that happened in the British House of Commons. It could well be that he made the statement on his own (and obviously in a very sweeping way). He indicates no parliamentary precedent for this rather sweeping observation.

The parliamentary reference book entitled "Parliamentary Practice" by Sir Erskine May is known and respected all over the Commonwealth as an authoritative text on parliamentary procedure.

At page 328 of the Nineteenth Edition of Sir Erskine May, the following appears:

"Royal Family.—No question can be put which brings the name of the sovereign or the influence of the Crown directly before Parliament, or which casts reflections upon the sovereign or the royal family. A question has been altered by the Speaker's direction on the ground that the name of the sovereign should not be introduced to affect the views of the House."

The text continues on the same page, with the following:

"Royal Prerogative.—Questions may be asked of the Ministers who are the confidential advisers of the Crown regarding matters relating to those public duties for which the sovereign is responsible."

As indicated in the footnotes to this quotation, these statements of principle are based on precedent.

I have not the slightest justification for being convinced that a representation of the kind alleged in the question we are examining was ever made. Even if such a representation were made, it would not concern any public duty of His Honour the Lieutenant Governor. Therefore, by necessary implication from the above quotation, the question is out of order.

Sir Erskine May's text continues, on the same page 328, as follows:

"It has been ruled that the Prime Minister cannot be interrogated as to the advice that he may have given to the sovereign with regard to the grant of honours or the ecclesiastical patronage of the Crown or the appointment and dismissal of Privy Councillors or the dissolution of Parliament."

Obviously it would be wrong to conclude that the list of prohibitions I have just quoted is exhaustive or complete. It is, rather, a list illustrating a principle.

That principle is applicable to the question on which I have been asked to make a ruling.

Hence, because the question asked by the Hon. member does not relate to any public duties of His Honour, it is out of order. It is also out of order because it purports to deal with advice or a representation, by confidential advisers of the Crown, concerning a matter of a kind which, by parliamentary tradition, has been ruled not to be a proper subject for a question.
